Subject: The Republi-con Train Wreck

Robin,

Had the pleasure of reading the story about the beer dumped on your head in Mad-town. Great read. Best use of beer I've seen in a long time. Did he include the glass mug with the delivery?

All I can say is, welcome to the future of Wisconsin politics. Enjoy it. This is the way things will be, because we don't forgive or forget well. You guys created this radical mess, now you can deal with it. The only thing wrong with the whole incident is that your other loudmouth Republi-con cronie Van Wanggaard wasn't there getting one over his squash too.

I don't know when you Walker disciples will ever wake up and get it, but right now wouldn't be too soon. What is with this radical right-wing rampage you continue to support? What is wrong with you people? Did your moms and dads not show you enough attention as kids? Were you such dorks in high school that you no had no dates for the dances, so now you have to abuse your political powers to finally be noticed by someone?

You minions continue to support this radical neanderthal Walker, and yet one by one you are going down. Wirsch wins big against another Tea Party attorney wanna-be, and Hopper cries like a baby that his livelihood is challenged only because of his support of Walker. He then of course gets destroyed in a recall. TOO BAD SO SAD. Darling is of course the only one who saved the day for you, as she was saved by the rich in River Hills. No surprise, but don't get too excited, the small group of the River Hills rich are not indicative of the views of the entire state of Wisconsin, especially not with Scotty in office killing jobs by the thousands. So the recalls bring things closer. And January's recalls will be even more damaging to you, as you all already know. Tick, tock....

So what does Robin Vos plan to do next? You want to BANISH RECALLS...OF COURSE! Finding about 10,000 votes in Waukesha to save Prosser wasn't good enough, now you want to banish recalls. When you little republicon punks don't get your way, and you see the other team has found a way to win, you throw a tantrum and you try to change the rules of the game! Dirtbag little kids, that's what you all are. No, recalls aren't the "cancer", Robin, YOU and your republi-con cronies are!

But recalls are going NOWHERE, Robin. Don't be delusional. Or stupid. Right now they are the only peaceful "cure for cancer" we have. And we don't want to hear about your radical views of banishing them anymore. Just get your little sippy cup and teddy bear and settle yourself down. You thugs must be held accountable, and recalls are about the best way....for you. Banishing recalls is not a smart idea at all. Actually, recalls are your friend. They let the voters decide peacefully who stays in office. You should never back people into a corner with radical power abuse and give them no options out, it's never a good idea. Leave the recalls alone, Robin.

And oh guess what. It gets better. You and big mouth Wanggaard (Mr. yellow rain jacket protesting union rebel when he needed the union for his "medical" retirement) are next. I'm also anxious to see how Scotty's left hand man Fitzgerald will fare in the state employee-run prison area of Horicon, come January, after Walker has ripped middle class workers down to nothing while even coming after vacation time and other things meaningless to the "BUDGET" he has lied so much about. If Walker could just sell all his BS he has fed all Wisconsinites over the last several months, this recession would be over and we would be truly "open for business." But he continues to lie to Wisconsin, and we continue to anger.

January's coming fast....time is ticking for all of you dirtbags, Vos. You, Wanggaard, Fitzgerald, Grothman, all of you ad nauseum.... Walker's crooked ways are catching up. People, even former supporters and moderate republicans are sick of your big mouths and the radical extreme agenda you disciples represent under Scotty. Your radical agenda is dividing and ruining this state. In case you haven't noticed, your God Walker has agitated a very vindictive large group of people, and Scotty's radical disciples are just as guilty in our eyes. NOT GOOD.

Now might be a great time for you radical circus clowns to let it go and start smacking some sense into your collective brains. Your God, the self-proclaimed "Eagle Scout with the Christian upbringing" is in a bit of trouble. Rich cronies getting convicted, Federal raids on assistants, computers being seized, assistants anointed 100K jobs being exploited, spokesmen receiving immunity, criminal defense attorneys hired, etc etc.... Funny how Walker is "unaware" of what's going on, while his partner in crime railroad hotshot is convicted of 2 felonies and his own spokesperson has been granted immunity. Sounds shadier than Van Wanggaard's "medical" retirement!

Dirt always surfaces, no matter how much you pro-rich radicals try to hide it.

Let it go, Vos. You, Fitzgerald, Wanggaard, et al. Let it go. As inept as Doyle was, Walker is making him look like Jesus right now. And no matter how much you Tea Party filthbags hate Obama, it doesn't make Walker any better.

I've enclosed below a little tidbit for you on your god Walker's cheatings and failures at Marquette, for your reading pleasure. Clearly his evil youngster ways have not been completely relinquished. It might be wise to get off your Walker train soon, before it crashes. ENJOY! (feel free to forward to your cronies)

P.S. - someone please tell that big mouth pro-rich River Hills radical Alberta Darling to shut her fat yap and stop talking over Lena Taylor in the assembly. Darling's ugly enough without opening her yap. If anyone should be removed from their job, it's HER. Thanks.

Walker attended Marquette from 1986 to 1990, but never attained a degree. His sophomore year, Walker ran for president of the Associated Students of Marquette University (ASMU, the former title for Marquette Student Government). He was accused of violating campaign guidelines on multiple occasions.

The Tribune reported then that he was found guilty of illegal campaigning two weeks before his candidacy became official. Later, a Walker campaign worker was seen placing brochures under doors at the YMCA. Door-to-door campaigning was strictly prohibited.

Walker initially denied this but later admitted to the violation, which resulted in lost campaign privileges at the YMCA.
